Fairfield scores 3-D printing/manufacturing training grant!

Training for Better Braining! The Idaho Department of Labor has awarded Fairfield City a technology training grant of $25,000 to fund development of a Makerspace Lab in the Camas County School and hold four training sessions, over a year, in computer-driven 3-D printing and machining. The aim is to increase skills development in students and local residents in cutting edge industrial technology. The Times News quoted Megan Stelma, Fairfield's P&Z Administrator, in explaining the program and its value to the community:

"Not only is it going to be training our adults, but it's also going to provide hands-on education for our kids," said Stelma, About 28 people can attend one of four training sessions over a 12-month period once the lab is established with a 3-D printer and supplies, she said. Eight of those will get a job with a "community partner" company within 30 days, and five will be current employees whose anticipated wage gain will be $2-5 an hour, Stelma said. Industry partners include Between the Lines Design, High Country Fusion, and Earth & Structure.

According to the Times News, classes will be run by the College of Southern Idaho or Integrative Solution. An advisory board will meet quarterly to monitor progress and direct activities to accomplish the goals of the grant. The Times News quotes Stelma: "The idea for the training stemmed from the Idaho community review last June."

The grant was approved by the Idaho Workforce Development Council and funded through the Idaho Workforce Development Training Fund. Approved projects must increase employment and wages of a community's workforce or assist in stemming the out-migration of youth and young adult workers from Idaho communities. 🍷

He-Mushers vs. Community School!

Last Friday's game was a barnburner! A justly celebrated overtime squeaker! Camas 57/58 Community School!

In a floor-pounding bout in Ketchum, Camas gave it everything and came up a point short when the overtime clock blew up. Formidable sportswriter Jeff Cordes from the Idaho Mountain Express was there and was impressed: "The Cutthroats with five seniors and the spunky Mushers from Fairfield played like it was a championship game and left everything on the floor during Friday's thrilling overtime barnburner before a packed house at the Fish Tank." The Mushers went to the Conference Tournament this week! 🍷

PTO scores snowcone shack for local deployment!

Squalid community doughnut orgy pays off big time! Our snowcone dreams are about to come true!!!!

Ripped from Facebook: "It's Here! Future PTO snowcone shack! This was only made possible by all of you! Thank you for all your support and all those doughnuts that were purchased to make this possible! Stay tuned in future months to see how we jazz up and change up the shack – strictly observing the International Building Code and other applicable regulations, of course – to make it our own! Local event schedule to also come soon!" 🍷

Senior Center lunches!

Slap me with a pork chop! Ha ha just kidding!

Today's lunch, Spaghetti! Friday, it's Pork Roast! Next Tuesday: Soup and Sandwich! Next Wednesday: Fish! Fish! Delicious Fish! Lunches served noon to 2 p.m.! 🍷

“Thanks” to Camas County Emergency Responders!

“On behalf of my family, I would like to send out a thank you to all those great people who showed up the morning of February 10th, to assist in the care of my family and the others involved in the accident. We are so grateful for the care given by our thoughtful ambulance crew including Lesia, Amy, Deanna, Rick, Wes, Marshall; the Sheriff’s department including Dave, Jon, Travis, and Brad; another Travis with the extrication gear, Jake, Mike and his tow truck, and ITD who came to help with traffic control. I hope I haven’t left anyone out. Thank you also to those came upon the accident who were quick to call 911. This could have been a whole lot worse and we thank God for the wellness of all involved. We live in a wonderful community where people with big hearts reach out in the time of need. We cannot thank you ALL enough.” – Heather Sabin 🍷

An illustrated library lecture! “Prehistoric Use of Eleven Lava Tube Caves on the Eastern Snake River Plain, Idaho!” Next week! By archaeologist Julie Rodman!

On the eastern Snake River Plain, near Big Southern Butte, are a number of unique lava tube caves. Eleven of the caves contain evidence of prehistoric human use including hunting, food processing and storage, lithic tool manufacture, and hide preparation. Archaeological excavations have been conducted in Bobcat Cave, Raptor Cave, and Roadside Cave. Several caves contain significant rock art including images of bison and shield-bearing warriors. Some caves also contain year round ice and may have provided water in the high desert. This presentation shares the results of these excavations and a discussion of the surrounding unexcavated caves. Next Saturday, February 27, at the Library in Fairfield! 🍷

American Legion Crab Feed Saturday! All you can eat! Bring your crab tools!

“Bite me!” implored the huge crab! So here’s our big chance to oblige Brother Arthropod. The Fairfield post of the American Legion holds its annual crab feed fundraiser Saturday at the Legion Hall! The justly celebrated Dungeon will open at 5:30 p.m., and the crab-biting begins at 7 p.m.! Limited admission, and tickets cost $35! Get tickets from Legionnaires! Call 764-2223, 764-3444 or 358-2214! The festivities will also include a raffle of a Remington .243 and an allegedly pink Taurus .380! Raffle tickets $5! The proceeds of the Crab Feed go to fund the Legion’s community support activities! 🍷

West Magic Resort hosts ice-fishing tournament Saturday and Sunday! Makes sense!

Make a hole in the ice at Magic Reservoir! Sit on a bucket! Go fishing in the hole! Hey, that seems perfectly sensible to me! Where do I sign up for this hüge fun? I can’t wait! To experience this perfectly sensible but little understood pastime, head for West Magic Resort Saturday and Sunday mornings! Registration begins at 7 a.m.! A sensible hour! Cash prizes for successful fish extraction and other amazing raffle prizes throughout the day! The use of harpoons, frog gigs and/or dynamite, though perfectly sensible and justly celebrated in some rural areas, is for some reason prohibited in this competition! A big fish fry at 1:30 Sunday afternoon (free for participants!)! For more perfectly sensible information call Don Hartman at 487-2571 or Stacy McLaughlin at 720-1738! Makes sense! 🍷
