Makin' Tracks!!! Avalanche hazard close to home!

Too darn deep! What the heck is this stuff? School is closed today! Is The Wheel obsolete? The Sawtooth Avalanche Center notes: "Natural avalanches are most likely at middle and upper elevations, but local wind patterns will build fresh slabs in exposed, low elevation along Soldier Creek and the Fairfield foothills. Travel in avalanche terrain is not recommended. This includes flat areas in the valley bottom near the base of large, steeper slopes."

The Mistress of Spices!

Let's Talk About It! Book discussion group follows food groove! The Library commands us! Read now! Die later!

The last Let's Talk About It reading and discussion program for the season will be held Monday, February 25th. The book for this session is The Mistress of Spices by Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni. This is a lyric novel written in a style that has been called magic realism; the heroine is Tilo who has been trained on a magical island by a priestess who has a vocation for ministering to others.

The discussion will be led by scholar Kim Madsen Dill, a Ph.D. candidate and Professor of English at ISU! The public is invited to attend and enjoy a fun and lively discussion along with an assortment of refreshments, no doubt of the spicy kind! Books are available for check-out at the Camas County Public Library.

"Divakaruni's prose is so pungent that it stains the page . . . " – The New Yorker reviewer on The Mistress of Spices

Windbreaks help lower heating cost, stop wind erosion from roads and fields, protect buildings and animals, and keep snow from drifting. Roots filter nutrients and sediment and help with water erosion. Trees provide shelter and food for insects, birds, wildlife and people. Plant a tree today and beautify your surroundings.
